

Serger Snack Bags
by Lindsay Wilkes from The Cottage Mama www.thecottagemama.com

With three little kids at home we go through a lot of snack bags every day. So instead of using tons of plastic bags, I came up with this super simple snack bag that can be made entirely on your serger. These sew up so fast that you could make 20 of them in an hour.....no joke! Let's get started....

Created by: Lindsay Wilkes, www.thecottagemama.com

Baby Lock Machine: Baby Lock Evolution Serger

SUPPLIES:

- Baby Lock Serger
- 2 pieces of woven cotton fabric cut 7" wide x 15" long
- All-purpose serger thread
- Rotary Cutter, mat and ruler
- Iron
- Fray Check
- Scissors

Baby Lock's

NATIONAL SERGER MONTH

Serger Project Round-Up

From Baby Lock's Favorite Bloggers

FOR THE LOVE OF SEWING

INSTRUCTIONS:

Step 1: Use 1/2" seam allowance, unless noted. Cut two pieces of woven cotton fabric 7" wide by 15" long. Place the two pieces of fabric on top of one another with their wrong sides together. Serge one short edge.

Step 2: Fold the fabric in half, lining up the short edge with the serged short edge on top. Make sure the fabric you want to use as the outside of the bag is showing at this point.

The project, photos and instructions belong to the author stated in this document and are not property of Baby Lock.

Baby Lock's

NATIONAL SERGER MONTH

Serger Project Round-Up
From Baby Lock's Favorite Bloggers

baby lock
FOR THE LOVE OF SEWING

Step 3: Fold down the one serged short end of the fabric by 1.5" and press. Serge both sides and then the remaining short end. Be careful to feed the fabric through your serger slowly when sewing the sides so as not to make the folded down fabric bunch up.

Step 4: Use Fray Check or other fray blocking gel to prevent any fraying on the corners. Apply and let dry, then clip any remaining threads.

Baby Lock's

NATIONAL SERGER MONTH

Serger Project Round-Up

From Baby Lock's Favorite Bloggers

FOR THE LOVE OF SEWING

Now your serger snack bags are complete! You can make these in all different fabrics and prints. They are great gifts or just make a bunch to have around for your little munchkins. And because they don't have a closure, they are super simple for little fingers to open and close.

Fill them with your favorite snacks, fold over the fabric and you are good to go!